Notable features:

Old stable; could be converted to a dwelling. It should clearly not be in light industrial use for such would provoke traffic which would disturb the residential terraces. If they are not kept and a large open space is developed, this could go.

Ponies and supplies for "Arabs" are kept here. (See photo sheet for 107-121 S. Carlton.)

Environmental context:

Faces rears of Pratt Street and Carlton Street houses across an 8' alley.
